PRETTY GIRLS.

Here is a situation the maidens are asking: How can we make ourselves fair? One thinks that her cheeks are a little too red; another is prancing her pretty head. And there is a girl who is sitting there.

This lassie's cheeks are a little too pale; Her face can also make them red? And this one is slender and soft and white—As white as a lily.

And this one thinks she's a trifle too plump; Another one thinks she's too small; Her face is a little round and rosy; And what shall we do for these poor, poor girls?

That can not be happy at all!

And I who look at them, can not see These girls are the daintiest of roses in bloom; They over them all there is resting; the glow of their beauty is like the sun.

The mystical secret is mine to impart; Listen! all who covet the powerful art,

Let me tell you, it is to sit down in the depths of a gentle heart,

And when we do these poor, poor girls

They are happy enough to love.

They are the beautiful lilies, dear girls;

But when the form is plump or slight,

They are pretty enough to love.

HEIDELBERG'S JUBILEE

A Notable Gathering at the Old University Tour.

History of the Village and Count Röpke, Founder of the Great Mayne

A World-Renowned Library—Customs of the Students.

The romantic town of Heidelberg, in South Germany, has been in a whirl of excitement in celebrating the five hundredth anniversary of the founding of Heidelberg University. The Crown Prince of Germany was here, and the students to a man had turned out to honor him. The hand of the Grand Duke of Baden had royalty entertained his guests in town. The little place has been so filled with visitors from all parts of the civilized world that the hotel could not begin to accommodate them, and they were compelled to take trains to stay all night and to return to the festivities in the morning. There were many Americans among the visitors. The Johns Hopkins University, of Baltimore, Yale and Harvard colleges, Oxford and Cambridge in England, and Princeton and Columbia in America, were represented. Delegates were sent from the University of Bologna, Upsala, Lund, Leyden, Utrecht, Amsterdam, Paris, Madrid, Florence, and from the Pope at Rome, and from the universities of Stockholm and Brussels. The public began with services of praise to the God of creation, and the university itself was pilled and sacked again and again, and the beautiful architecture destroyed. Following honoraria, graves were bestowed upon distinguished persons on both continents. These took place in the Gothic Neckar Hall, at which the Grand Duke of Baden presided. The Crown Prince of Württemberg was present, and healths were drunk in his honor. Afterward there was a procession, in which the historical Counts and Barons were represented in appropriate costume, and the King of Prussia, with grand hall and a special performance at Heidelberg's only theater.

The town of Neckarburg, commonly called Neckar, is situated in a picturesque and fertile region about the middle of the Rhine, the seat of high Government officials, and are conservative in tone; to the bourgeoisie being the most prominent.

There are some fine old houses, and the founder of the university was Count Palatine of Heidelberg. The Every mountain pass was infested by robbers, and the people were afraid of him who had the strongest hand. The founder of the university was Count Palatine of Heidelberg.

how it was made no one knew. The Heidelbergers are as fond of their castle as of their university, and a few years ago found themselves in a position, called "Schlossverein," or Castle Association. Another attraction is the long bridge across the river, which is never tired of repeating that the great Goethe said it was the most beautiful bridge in the world.

The buildings of the university are in the geographical center of the town. They front a little square called Ludwig's place, and in 1715-16, to take the place of the old structures which had been removed. The buildings are of stone, and a great deal of them are already without modern conveniences. The universities in Bonn and Berlin are palaces in comparison. From the time of its foundation the university flourished for nearly three hundred years. It had the finest library of any university in Europe. The most valuable books were bound in costly leather, velvet and silk, fastened with long pins, and looks to this day. In the still existing Chapel of the Holy Ghost, where no doubt students, while mass was celebrated, used to sit in the galleries on the outside of the church to study. When the Reformation had swept over the university, and it became a Protestant University, and it had a student body of over 2,000, the number of students was increased to 3,000, and the library to 30,000 volumes, among them 3,000 manuscripts.

The university has faculties of theology, law, medicine, philosophy and science. It is only in the last ten years that the university has been given up to the rector, the Crown Prince of Baden, and the university has a rector, who is the officer of highest academic dignity.

The well-known library was left to Pope Pius V. by the reigning Emperor Rudolf II. At the beginning of the sixteenth century the library was destroyed by fire, and the books were scattered, and the rector, the Crown Prince of Baden, was compelled to rebuild the library. The university library has now over 300,000 volumes, among them 3,000 manuscripts.

—Let the milking be done quickly and quietly, regularly and thoroughly.—Farm, Field and Stockman.

The press of the State seems at a loss to find a suitable candidate to lead the banner of the Democratic Party in the next gubernatorial race. We can help them to a decision. John T. Hazelgreen, of West Liberty, will fill the acting void, and we now, therefore, nominate him for Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Eastern Kentucky is entitled to this recognition in making up the roster for the State slate, and John T. Hazelgreen, of Hazard, will be our man. Eastern Kentucky possesses all the elements requisite for an Executive. He is a lawyer learned, a parliamentarian with scarcely a peer, a giant in genius and a generous gentleman. His salient qualities and sharp satire remind one of the lamented Marshall, while his unbounded love for and loyalty to Kentucky, impress us with the image of the great and only Clark. Under Hazelgreen's administration the country will be safe and the orphans a father. Good people throughout the State would rejoice and had ones regret his elevation to the high office of Executive. Mr. Hazelgreen's nomination would insure harmony, and as Governor he would rescue us from the impending ruin and the ruts of which we tread. The HERALD appeals to the people to sustain him the nominee, and closes with a "Huzzah for Hazelgreen, the next Governor of Kentucky."

The second number of the Grayson Gazette, the name under which Wallace Grinnell succeeds the Lettschield, has reached our office, and is a favorite exchange. It is full of good things, and if the people of Lettschield and Grayson county do not give the paper a handsome support, they will be directed in duty. Wallace shows in his article the progress of the negro, and what his abundant success in all things except in his effort to defeat Willis for Congress from the Louisville district.

Mr. Will E. Estill has purchased the Owingsville Outlook. He is a new man so far, but if the improvement inaugurated in the first issue is continued that paper will be a success. Let us hope so.

At first glances we thought Hazelgreen had been enthused by the success he saw in Kansas, and was trying to impart some of the inspiration he had imbibed.

THE HERALD sends greeting to Bro. Estill, and hopes soon to see "excellence" written on his escutcheon.

A novel plan is suggested by Rev. E. G. Scott, of the colored people here, to use off the colored voters of the United States, which is this. Every time a vote is cast the voter is to deposit $1, which is to go to the Government to pay for public lands in the West, for the benefit of the negro race, and eight years they will own more acres than there were slaves on the day of the Emancipation Proclamation.

Phrenosomous is having a full sweep across the cattle of Chicago and vicinity, and all efforts to stamp it out have thus far proved unavailing. It seems that the only remedy is to kill all the cattle within a radius of many miles, and the loss will be immense.

Careless news after the Louisville people, that Willis wins and the people triumph.

The law, which became operative on Sept. 1st, regulating the sale of morphine, opium, and salts of morphine, was introduced in some quarters. There was a bill passed during the late Legislature which all prepared to become law, of which morphine was to be written in scarlet paper. It was discovered that the bill was wholly imprudent and would be greatly inconvenient to the druggists, and would be of no benefit to the public, and it was repealed. Later on a bill was passed requiring morphine, and salts of morphine, to be labeled with the name of the manufacturer, and to be sold, to be wrapped in sealed wrappers or envelopes, and all bottles or vials or other packages used by dealers in the salts of morphine, shall, in addition to scarlet wrapping be labeled with the name of the manufacturer, and the salts of morphine marked in plain white letters. The law is most excellent, and will contribute largely against swindlers often made in connection with it. It is to be hoped that no drags being very greatly alike in appearance and also in taste to the uneducated in drugs.—Capital.

PREPARE FOR TROUBLE TO-DAY.

Prof. Virginia Prophecies a Great Earthquake in the South—The South is to be Destroyed.

Orlando, Oct. 28.—Prof. E. Storck, geologist, of New Haven, Conn., says that the 29th inst. will witness one of the most terrible subterranean convulsions ever known on the continent, as Dr. W. C. Wiggins, of Charleston, predicted. His prediction is regarded as worthy of weight. Both Prof. Wiggins and Prof. Storck are certain that an earthquake will visit the Southern States on the 29th of this month. The disturbance will cross the Atlantic, and will in all probability affect South Europe. South America will be exceedingly liable to be affected, and the shock will be so violent that it will be felt from coast to coast. The shock will also affect San Francisco and the Pacific Coast.

It is certain that an earthquake will occur near the 29th inst., and even then the earthquake force will be less than the 28th.

But as to the parallel of latitude on which the disturbance would take place, Wiggins replied that the accident would be between the thirtieth parallel of latitude, and the equator.

He also said that the disturbance would be of moderate violence, and will consist of a series of small shocks.

The disturbance will cause widespread destruction, so that the day will be far greater than that which caused the recent disturbance so disastrously.

It is to be expected that the shock will be like a series of strokes.

The destruction to property would be something terrible.
